

PORTFOLIO

Driven to become an executive producer in the television and film industry, my career began as a production assistant after university. Shortly after, freelance opportunities followed, leading to roles as 1st AD, producer, and casting assistant/coordinator across various projects—from commercials to feature films. Passion, professionalism, and enthusiasm are brought to every project.

With a long-term goal of creating, writing, and directing original work, the focus remains on continual growth and learning. Always on the move, ready and eager for the next challenge.
